Who are we at Snowy Wings Publishing? We are...

LOCAL

We're based out of Turner, Oregon, in the heart of the Willamette Valley.

COOPERATIVE PUBLISHING

We are 100% author owned and operated, which allows us to take risks and focus on important stories that might be passed up by larger publishers. We currently have forty member authors and have published over one hundred titles.

QUALITY DRIVEN

Our members proudly uphold publishing standards set forth by the Independent Book Publishers Association (IBPA).

CRITICALLY ACCLAIMED

Our books have received positive reviews, including several starred reviews, from a number of key trade review publications, including Kirkus Reviews, Foreword Reviews, Publishers Weekly, School Library Journal, Booklist, Queer Books for Teens, and more.

WE PROMOTE DIVERSITY

We pride ourselves on publishing underrepresented voices, with 55% of our member authors and 75% of our professional staff coming from marginalized backgrounds (BIPOC, LGBTQIA+, disabled/chronically ill, religious minorities, and a combination thereof).

HOW CAN WE PARTNER WITH YOUR LIBRARY?

Our authors are available for panels and workshops with your patrons – virtual, in-person, or a combination, dependent on author location.

We offer educator resource guides for many of our titles on our website. You can find these and sign up for our librarian newsletter at librarians.snowywingspublishing.com

You can find all our books in print through Brodart Books, Baker and Taylor, and Ingram Content Group. Many titles are also available to libraries digitally through Overdrive, Bibliotheca, and other sources.

If you would be interested in ordering directly from us, please contact Lisa Basalto at books@snowywingspublishing.com

We would be delighted to donate print books to your library collection! Please contact Lisa Basalto at books@snowywingspublishing.com for more information.
